

OUR PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

In our Parish people are nourished by the Word of God. It is a Parish where love is tangible and practical. It is a place where people pray together. Our Parish community is centred on Jesus Christ, on knowing and loving Him. It is incarnated in the love we show one another

A Samaritan traveller who came upon him who was moved with compassion at the sight. He approached the victim, poured oil and wine over his wounds and bandaged them. Then he lifted him up on his own animal, took him to an inn and cared for him

Dear Parishioner,

I write to inform you that from this summer, the parish of Dromtariffe will no longer have a priest resident in the parish. Each of the priests in the Duhallow Sliabh Luachra Pastoral Area will now minister to the parish of Dromtariffe with one priest taking the lead role as Moderator.

Dromtariffe will continue to be a separate parish and will continue to have the fullness of parish life.

In the coming months, the Diocesan Pastoral Team will guide and support the parish and pastoral area through this time of transition. While the decrease in the number of clergy in the diocese is very challenging, there is a positive dimension to this new reality. It provides an opportunity for laity to take their rightful place in leadership roles in all our parishes.

Due to the commitment of clergy and laity and the preparation that has been underway throughout the diocese at parish and pastoral area level, I believe Dromtariffe parish, and the Duhallow Sliabh Luachra Pastoral Area will adjust well.

I offer you, the people and the priests of the Duhallow Sliabh Luachra Pastoral Area, my support at this time. I will keep you in my prayers as you strive to respond to this new situation.

May God watch over us all with his Fatherly care.

Yours sincerely

+ Ray Browne Bishop of Kerry

Being a Good Samaritan

The term "Good Samaritan" today refers to a person who helps others in a random act of kindness. It originated from the Parable of the Good Samaritan, a story that is very familiar to us.

Having the intent to help is good, but acting on that intent is much better. The Samaritan's intent didn't save the wounded man from death. It's his actions that ultimately saved the man's life. He didn't walk away just like the two men before him. He decided to do something.

In our time, that the injured man's photos would end up in social media before he even gets to the hospital. Everybody would take pictures but very few would actually dare to help. We'll feel sorry for that person but not enough to get involved

Prejudice have always been a great divider among nations. Since the ancient times to the present, we tend to distrust others who don't look like us or sound like us.

But the Samaritan didn't care about race. He showed us that racism has no place in charity. And that we should help others regardless of where they came from or what they believe in. After all, we are all created equal: no one race is superior nor inferior from the other. And at the end of the day, we all belong to the same race: humanity.

The civil rights activist Martin Luther King Jr. famously said:

"On the parable of the Good Samaritan: 'I imagine that the first question the priest and Levite asked was: 'If I stop to help this man, what will happen to me?' But by the very nature of his concern, the good Samaritan reversed the question: 'If I do not stop to help this man, what will happen to him?'"
